Improvements have been made to the Control Center based on teacher feedback, including the following:

- Teachers can now navigate to past and future terms using the arrow keys at the top right.
- Updated section names to display on separate lines if a teacher has more than one section in a period.
- The number of students expected in the class is shown for each period in the attendance column.

  - Tightened the visual display to show more students at a time.
  - Moved comments for Absent and Tardy students to a comments button to free up vertical space.

Student Schedule, Walk-In Scheduler Updates

PATH: Student Information > Counseling > General > Schedule, Walk-In Scheduler

In preparation for the replacement of Student Schedule and Walk-In Scheduler tools in Student Information later this summer, several cosmetic and browser-related issues have been modified in the new Counseling Student Schedule and Walk-In Scheduler tools.

In addition, new features have been added to the Walk-In Scheduler:

- When hiding terms in the filter bar, a Hidden Sections warning displays if a course has been chosen that is included in a hidden term. The user has the option to override the filters to display the entire grid, or continue scheduling with the filters in place.
- When searching for courses, the Show Teacher option has been replaced with a chevron that expands the list to display sections for each course. Course sections can be selected directly from the list. The chevron also appears on each course in the list, allowing the user to expand and collapse the list on a course by course basis.
- A Quick Add option exists when viewing the Requests panel. This allows the user to enter in memorized course numbers to add the course to the request list.
- An Add Planned Courses option exists when viewing the Requests panel, which adds any planned courses to the student's course requests.
- The Update button has been removed when placing a course on the Schedule; instead, courses can now be placed on the Schedule by selecting the highlighted cells.
- When a student drops a course on the last day of the term, the Drop Date displays on the course section, and that course that is scheduled in future terms is removed.

As mentioned above, the Student Schedule and Walk-In Scheduler tools in Student Information General will be replaced later this summer with the new Student Schedule and Walk-In Scheduler tools available in the Student Information > Counseling > General toolset. Please ensure the appropriate tool rights to the Counseling toolset are assigned to the staff who need to access these tools.

Additionally, the Student Comments and Teacher Feedback fields that were previously on the old scoring view for submissions have also been moved to this Submission list as well. ## Ed- Fi - New Ed-Fi Configuration Tool

PATH: System Administration > Ed-Fi > Ed-Fi Configuration

In preparation for the Ed-Fi 3.1 version for the 2019-20 school year and for future improvements to the Campus Ed-Fi tools, the Ed-Fi Preferences and Ed-Fi Config tabs have been combined into one Ed-Fi Configuration tool.

In order for data to flow from Campus to Ed-Fi, code mapping was completed in the Campus Attribute Dictionaries in a column called 'Ed-Fi Code' that allowed for Campus/State code values to be translated into what Ed-Fi would accept. Fields like Ed-Fi Term Type and Grading Periods were also added to areas of the product to accomplish the same thing. Our goal with the new Configuration tool is to provide users more visibility into what is being mapped and also give users more control on how the data is sent.

This project is ongoing and you will continue to see changes to the Ed-Fi Tools over the next few months.

PATH: Scheduling > Courses > Course > Course Rules

- Course Rotation allows courses to be planned in specific years based on the entered interval and starting school year. For example, a course that is only available every third year has an interval of three. Parents and students are unable to plan these courses in off years.

Transcript Report Preferences and eTranscript Updates

PATH: System Administration > Preferences > Reports > Transcript

Transcripts

The following modifications have been made to Report Preferences for Transcripts:

- Additional options for including In-Progress Courses on the Transcript have been added. Options can also be marked to not include In-Progress Courses from previous years (Exclude Previous Years) and to include In-Progress Courses that exist for any future term in the current year (Include Future Courses).
- If a previous course number or course name is changed, and transcripts were posted using the Transcript Post tool, the course displays correctly. If a transcript record was manually entered for a student with the previous course number or course name, that course may show as in progress. This happens because there is no section ID to attach to the record. To eliminate this from happening, mark the Exclude Prior Years for In-Progress Courses.
- One-time grading tasks are included in the In-Progress credit total.
- In-Progress logic follows standard date logic, which is that a course is considered in progress until midnight of the entered end date. If a student drops a course or is no longer enrolled on Tuesday the 12th, the student is still active in that course until midnight of the 12th.

eTranscript

- On the PESC XML Layout, future In-Progress Courses previously sent as InProgress. This now sends as NotYetReported.
- The Electronic Release History log has been increased to 4000 characters, and the window on the eTranscript Batch that indicates an error has also increased.

Census Mailing Labels for Guardians, Teachers, Staff

PATH: Census > Reports > Mailing Labels

- Teacher labels print the name of the teacher who has an active District Assignment record and the Teacher checkbox marked, or if using Campus HR, an active Work Assignment and a role of Teacher selected. Teachers must be in a household that has an address marked as mailing (for Campus HR, the address must be marked as HR Mailing).
- Staff labels print the name of the staff person who has an active District Assignment record, or if using Campus HR, an active Work Assignment. Staff must be in a household that has an address marked as mailing (for Campus HR, the address must be marked as HR Mailing).
- District Staff labels print the name of the district staff person who has an active District Employment and no District Assignment record, or if using Campus HR, an active Work Assignment. Staff must be in a household that has an address marked as mailing (for Campus HR, the address must be marked as HR Mailing).

Existing functionality for generating student labels has not changed. Student labels can be generated by selecting a Grade level or a Course/Section. The only difference between student labels and guardian labels is the ability to print the salutation on the student label (To the Parent/Guardian of: option).

In addition to the added report options, the following modifications have been made:

- The option to Print Labels for Student or Household has been removed, since labels can now be printed for guardians.

Enrollment History Import Wizard and Local Enrollment Start/End Statuses

PATH: System Administration > Data Utilities > Student Records Transfer; System Administration > Enrollment

The following modifications have been made to the Enrollment History Import Wizard as it relates to the Local Start/End Statuses and State Start/End Statuses:

For Same State Transfers

Local Start Status is no longer a required field when data is transferred. It is still a required field on the student's enrollment record.

On the Enrollment History Import Wizard, the Local Start Status populates based on the State Start Status transferred from the prior district.

If the receiving district has defined a Local Start Status in the Enrollment Status Mapping tool that meets the following requirements, the Local Start Status is populated with that value:

- Is an exact match of the sending district's State Start Status on description.
- Has the same State Start Status mapped.
- The end year is either null (blank) or after the end year of the enrollment.

If there is no local code that meets the above requirements, the Local Start Status field displays blank. If the user saves the local enrollment Start Status with a blank value, the existing State Start Status must save to the database and displays on the student's enrollment record.

The Local Start Status on the enrollment history import remains available for selection to allow for a district override. If the district overrides the value, the State Start Status tied to the Local Start Status is saved.

The Local End Status populates based on the State Status transferred from the prior district. If the receiving district has defined a Local End Status in the Enrollment Status Mapping tool that meets the following requirements, the Local End Status populates with that value:

- Is an exact match of the sending district's State End Status on description.
- Has the same State End Status mapped.
- The end year is either null (blank) or after the end year of the enrollment.

If there is no local code that meets the above requirements, the Local End Status field displays blank. If the user saves the local enrollment End Status with a blank value, the existing State End Status saves to the database and displays on the student's enrollment history record.

The Local End Status on the enrollment history import remains available for selection to allow for a district override. If the district overrides the value, the State End Status tied to the Local End Status is saved.

For National Records Exchange - State A to State B

No data transfers in the Enrollment History Import Wizard. The existing state and local enrollment statuses are transferred via the PDF Enrollment History document.

For National Records Exchange and State Records Transfers

Local Start Status is not required entry on the Import Wizard. However, it is still required on the student's Enrollment record. If a Local Start Status has not been provided, data imports with a blank Local Start Status and must be entered when any modification is made to the Enrollment record.
