

Measuring Progress Activity

How will the Family's Progress be Measured?

Provide a detailed description of how the family's progress in achieving the action steps will be measured.

Concern 1	Critique	Well-Written
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Progress will be measured by self-reports from family and caseworker's observations.</li> <li>• Progress will be measured through completion of case plan goals and objectives.</li> <li>• Progress will be measured through verbal and written reports of service providers.</li> <li>• Progress will be measured through monthly announced and unannounced home visits.</li> <li>• Progress will be measured by the family's willingness to cooperate with all service providers and follow through on recommendations.</li> <li>• Progress will be measured through collateral information (i.e. family, police, schools, medical, etc.)</li> </ul>
Concern 2	Critique	Well-Written
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Progress will be measured by self-reports from family and caseworker's observations.</li> <li>• Progress will be measured through completion of family case plan goals and objectives.</li> <li>• Progress will be measured through verbal and written reports of service provider.</li> </ul>

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Progress will be measured through monthly announced and unannounced home visits.</li> <li>• Progress will be measured by the family being able to meet medical/emotional needs on a monthly basis.</li> <li>• Progress will be measured by the family’s willingness to cooperate with all service providers and follow through with recommendations.</li> <li>• Progress may be measured through collateral information (i.e. family, police, schools, medical, etc.)</li> </ul>
Concern 3	Critique	Well-Written
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Progress will be measured by self-reports from family and caseworker’s observations.</li> <li>• Progress will be measured through completion of family case plan goals and objectives.</li> <li>• Progress will be measured through verbal and written reports of service provider.</li> <li>• Progress will be measured through monthly announced and unannounced home visits.</li> <li>• Progress will be measured by the family’s willingness to cooperate with all service providers and follow through with recommendations.</li> <li>• Progress may be measured through collateral information (i.e. family, police, schools, medical, etc.)</li> </ul>		