

Inclusive Teaching Symposium:

Teaching for Today's Classroom

Open to faculty, teaching staff, & instructional staff Harvard-wide

Our symposium of interactive workshops will share teaching activities and tools that give students ownership of their learning. Learn to design a course curriculum that gives students choices through assignments and makes connections to their lives, the world around them, and each other.

DAY 1: In-Person Workshops at 1 Brattle Sq.

Tuesday, April 25

9AM – 10AM: Check-In, Coffee, & Networking

10AM – 11AM: Concurrent Workshops

- Giving Students Power To Share Their Identity Through Stories
- Combatting the Clumsy Conversation

11AM – 11:15AM: Break & Networking

11:15AM – 12:15PM: Concurrent Workshops

- Giving Students Choices Through Assignments
- Inclusive Classroom & Course Design Practices

12:15PM – 1:15PM: Lunch & Networking

Learn more & register

DAY 2: Online Workshops via Zoom

Thursday, April 27

10AM – 11AM: Making Curriculum Relevant Through Integrating Current Events & Students Lives

11:15AM – 12:15PM: Fostering Community & Inclusion In Online & Hybrid Teaching Settings

2PM – 3PM: Developing Students Academic Courage to Learn from Failure

3:15PM – 4:15PM: Two Tools for Encouraging Meaningful Peer Feedback

Register at the below link to attend either one or more of the workshops:

<http://bit.ly/3TRkhIL>

Harvard Inclusive Teaching Institute

HARVARD
CultureLab