

Defining Homefront Readiness: The Role of Military Families in National Security

DEFINING HOMEFRONT READINESS

THE ROLE OF MILITARY FAMILIES
IN NATIONAL SECURITY

by Amanda Scott & Jenni Kain

with Breana Oliver, Taylor Davis, Katelyn Nixon,
Miranda Wright, & Varsha Robinson

The Department of Defense (DoD) strategy for protecting America's interests is shifting. Former near peers have become peers. Private and local public land and infrastructure now play a critical role in national security as the fight is poised to shift to the digital domain or even to U.S. soil. The DoD spends considerable time preparing its force for potential engagement; one area where the planning often lacks is the homefront and those who help hold it down – military spouses. Do military spouses understand their role in a great power conflict? This question was posed at the Association of Defense Communities Installation Innovation Forum 2024 by the then Assistant Secretary of the Air Force for Energy, Installations, and Environment.

This white paper is the response from a group of military spouse advocates who argue that Homefront Readiness is key.

DOWNLOAD THE REPORT

DOWNLOAD THE REPORT

Defining Homefront Readiness: The Role of Military Families in National Security

Jenni Kain

ADC Military Spouse
Leadership Initiative

Hurlburt Field,
Florida

Amanda Scott

ADC Military Spouse
Leadership Initiative

U. S. Air Force
Academy, Colorado

Dr. Kendra Lowe

(moderator)

Director of Military Spouse
Programs

First Command
Financial Services, Inc.

Homefront Readiness in the Black Hills Region, South Dakota

Taylor Davis

ADC Military Spouse
Leadership Initiative

Ellsworth AFB, South
Dakota

Doug Curry

City Administrator

Box Elder, South
Dakota

Robert Timm

Grant
Writer/Administrator

Box Elder, South
Dakota

Bre Oliver (moderator)

Military Spouse Liaison, ADC

Aligning Military and Civilian Efforts for Family Stability

SGM Ruben Murillo

Senior Enlisted Advisor, Prevention, Resilience, and Readiness Directorate, Office of the Deputy Chief of Staff,
G-9, Department of the Army

Jennie Taylor

Civilian Aide to the Secretary of the Army, Utah

Bre Oliver (moderator)

Military Spouse Liaison, ADC

DEFINING HOMEFRONT READINESS

THE ROLE OF MILITARY FAMILIES
IN NATIONAL SECURITY

by Amanda Scott & Jenni Kain

with Breana Oliver, Taylor Davis, Katelyn Nixon,
Miranda Wright, & Varsha Robinson

The Department of Defense (DoD) strategy for protecting America's interests is shifting. Former near peers have become peers. Private and local public land and infrastructure now play a critical role in national security as the fight is poised to shift to the digital domain or even to U.S. soil. The DoD spends considerable time preparing its force for potential engagement; one area where the planning often lacks is the homefront and those who help hold it down – military spouses. Do military spouses understand their role in a great power conflict? This question was posed at the Association of Defense Communities Installation Innovation Forum 2024 by the then Assistant Secretary of the Air Force for Energy, Installations, and Environment.

This white paper is the response from a group of military spouse advocates who argue that Homefront Readiness is key.

DOWNLOAD THE REPORT

DOWNLOAD THE REPORT