

Asynchronous Only

The DCE Academic Administration chooses courses that they believe are a good fit for the asynchronous only format. They reach out to instructors who are already teaching this course in another online format.

How does this work?

1. Instructors work with a learning design specialist to develop their course over several months before the course is delivered.
2. Instructors assess student work weekly and pre-record some course videos.