

Emergency Services: Challenges and Partnerships

ALABAMA

Lockheed Martin Courtland

Lockheed Martin Huntsville

Lockheed Martin Troy

Lockheed Martin's operations in Alabama are primarily focused on defense systems, including the final assembly of missiles, development of hypersonic technologies, and engineering for missile defense. Key activities include a facility in Troy for assembling missiles like the Javelin and THAAD, another facility in Courtland that is expanding to handle advanced defense systems and hypersonic weapons, and a new engineering facility in Huntsville for missile defense innovation and Black Hawk helicopter readiness.
