

Taking Flight Together: The Goldsboro and Seymour Johnson AFB Partnership

F 59

SEYMOUR JOHNSON AIR FORCE BASE

Field used, 1942-46, for flight training by Army Air Forces; reopened in 1956. Named for Seymour
Johnson, naval aviator and Goldsboro native.

A photograph of a downtown street in Goldsboro, North Carolina. The street is lined with brick buildings, including a prominent multi-story red brick building on the right. There are bare trees, streetlights, and cars on the road. The sky is blue with some clouds. The text 'DOWNTOWN' is overlaid at the top in large, white, outlined letters.
