

eQuest Solutions Exchange Products

Würk integrates with eQuest, a leading job board aggregator, to help you post jobs faster and reach more candidates. With a single post in your Würk Recruitment module, your job can be distributed to hundreds of boards worldwide – saving time and boosting visibility.

Finding qualified talent can be tough, and deciding where to advertise can be overwhelming. eQuest simplifies this by enabling quick, global distribution to third-party job boards directly from Würk.

When candidates click your listing on any board, they're redirected to your Würk career page to apply – keeping the process seamless and centralized.

If you are interested in enabling any of the below eQuest products, please contact your dedicated Customer Success Manager, or open a case with Support@enjoywurk.com.

eQuest Blast! Network

This is a free service that uses an algorithm to post a job requisition to job boards that don't have associated fees. The destination job boards are selected using requisition data, such as location, job title, etc.

eQuest will not provide the names of any boards that the requisition was posted to.

eQuest Xpress Network

This product is designed for clients who need occasional access to major job boards to fill critical roles and who want to take advantage of group pricing without having to pay for membership to those job boards.

The benefits of eQuest Xpress are:

- Access is free: No memberships to join, no job board contracts to sign, and no delivery fees.
- Provides exclusive discounts on job board postings.
- Direct payment by credit card when purchasing job board services.

eQuest Premium

This product allows you to specify which job board you want to post a requisition to. You must have an account with that job board's site and will need to provide eQuest with the login information (username/password) to enable an integration. A fee is associated with enablement of the eQuest Premium product, in addition to any fees paid for the associated job boards.

After Würk enables the eQuest Premium product in your instance, eQuest owns the relationship between you and eQuest. eQuest is also responsible for facilitating the integration between your Würk Career Portal and the job board(s). Neither Würk, UKG, or eQuest will create an account for you on any job board. Please note: eQuest Premium and eQuest Xpress cannot be enabled simultaneously.
